DIAGRAM
WORKING

TO TRANSFER THIS DESIGN.

Put a cake of soap (laundry soap will do) in a pint of hot water, stir vigorously and remove the soap. Saturate this Design with the soap and water mixture, then remove the excess moisture by partially drying the saturated Design or by applying a sheet of blotting paper. Place the material or fabric to which the design is to be transferred on a hard, flat surface and lay the Design, face down, upon the material. Cover with a dry sheet of thick paper or two folds of newspaper, and with the bowl of a tablespoon rub, pressing hard, until the Design is entirely transferred, being careful to rub from, rather than toward you. When rubbing, you can see if enough pressure is being applied by lifting a corner of the Design to note how well it's taking. Do not wet the material nor rub the face of the Design with damp fingers. To remove the Design lines after the article is completed, wash in warm water, with soap. The entire process is very simple and with a little care you can easily make perfect transfers to any kind of goods.

PATENT PENDING.

Unauthorized use of this process by any publication or firm, either directly or indirectly, is strictly forbidden. World Color Printing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

PLAIN nainsook, batiste or Italian silk should be used for the development of this pattern. If cotton fabric is used in making the garment, use cotton floss; if Italian silk is preferred, use filo-silk for embroidering all designs. The pattern being plain and simple can be developed wholly in satin stitch, or heavy outline. Perhaps the satin stitch—an over and over stitch, alike on both sides—is best. Embroider all rings in eyelet to soften the pattern. Make a very narrow buttonhole stitch around ribbon slashes, securing ends firmly that they will not tear when the ribbon is drawn. Work may be more rapidly completed if white soap is drawn on the wrong side of the material. Pass a cake of dry soap over all parts of the design. The needle passes easily through the fabric, and thread will not snarl. Diagram for work shows the principal embroidery features, though padding is not necessary.

HOW TO MAKE TASTY CONSERVE

For a delicious conserve take the peeling from five grapefruit and after removing the hardest of the white pulp, let the skin stand in a light brine over night. Two tablespoonfuls of salt added to water to cover will be about the proper proportion. In the morning drain, cut in neat pieces and put over the fire in fresh cold water to boil. Cook ten or fifteen minutes after it reaches the boiling point.

Drain, put into fresh boiling water and cook again ten minutes after the boiling recommences. Repeat this four times, or until tender.

Drain again, put with it in the saucepan two cupfuls water and two cupfuls sugar and cook until the peel is candied. Roll in sugar while hot to crystallize, and you have a most delightful addition to your afternoon tea table or bonbonniere.

EXCELLENT NUT COOKIES.

Cupful hickory nuts or any other nut preferred. Rub to a cream one pound light brown sugar and one cupful lard and butter mixed.

Add two well beaten eggs, one cupful sour milk into which a rounded teaspoonful soda has been beaten, the cupful nuts and flour, a little at a time until the dough is stiff enough to roll out.

Roll thin, cut in circles or any fancy as desired, place on a well greased pan and bake in a quick oven for four or five minutes.

WOMEN WHO COMPLAIN.

The woman who complains that her husband is not attentive to her had better ask herself whether she is attentive to him, and reasonably courteous when he wants to go out and she doesn't; or when he orders steak and she wants chicken; when he arranges to go out with some men friends, and she weeps and tells him he doesn't love her.

TEACHING CHILDREN HOW TO CONVERSE

Encourage the children to cultivate the art of conversation. Not a haphazard rush of words and jumbled statements, but require of them a comprehensive account of interesting incidents and scenes.

In a certain family one evening each week is given to a family conversation party in which each member tells the most interesting thing he has seen, heard, or read during the week.

Five minutes is the time limit. The evenings are always hailed with delight, for they are interesting and instructive. Without any rivalry each child in the family finds himself stimulated to do his best.

TASTY MEAT FRITTERS.

Cut scraps of cold beef, lamb or chicken which are too small to be used on the table into small pieces.

Make a batter of one cupful of milk, two eggs, a little salt and flour, enough so it will drop lightly from a spoon. Stir in the meat and drop in spoonfuls in hot fat.

ALWAYS REMEMBER.

We need to be careful how we deal with those about us, when every death carries to some small circles of survivors thoughts of so much omitted and so little done—of so many things forgotten and so many more which might have been repaired.—Oliver Twist.

WOMAN EDITOR MAKES FORTUNE

Mrs. Wilson Power in Ohio Politics—What Others Are Doing.

Mrs. Ida P. Wilson is the owner and editor of the Lebanon (Ohio) Patriot and is said to exercise a great influence in the politics of her county.

Her first husband had a newspaper that amounted to very little, but his wife took hold of it and she is now worth $40,000. Her present husband is a lawyer and attends to his own business, while his wife runs the paper, except that he attends the political conventions for her.

Mrs. Adelaide Johnson, the American sculptor, who opened a studio in London last season, is reported not only to have all the orders for work that she can execute, but to be winning a name for herself as an after-dinner speaker.

Queen Maud, of Norway, has innumerable hobbies and recreations, many of them being of a very useful and practical nature. She devotes many hours to sewing, wood carving and bookbinding, and in regard to the latter work has turned out some really beautiful specimens of the craft.

EXCELLENT GINGER PUFFS.

One-half cup of sugar, one-third cup molasses, one-quarter cup butter, one-half cup sour milk, one egg, one and three-quarters cups flour, one-half teaspoonful soda, one-half teaspoon ginger. Heat scones and bake in a quick oven. Beat heavy cream stiff and pour over or make a hot pudding sauce and flavor with lemon juice.

CLOSE FRIENDSHIPS CEASE.

Remarks have been made lately as regards the apparent decline of close personal friendships between men. Perhaps something in our busy modern life accounts for our lower note in masculine friendships. Perhaps, too, much that belonged to interchanges between man and man is now possible between woman and man as equals.

Danderine

Grows Hair

and we can PROVE IT!

The Great DANDERINE Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results.

It enlivens and invigorates the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, resulting in a continuous and increasing growth of the hair.

Letters of praise are continually coming in from nearly all parts of the country stating that Danderine has renewed the growth of hair in cases that were considered absolutely hopeless. A lady from Brooklyn, writes: "After a short trial my hair stopped falling and I now have a lovely head of hair, very heavy and over one and a quarter yards long."

Danderine stimulates the scalp, makes it healthy and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp invigorator known. It is a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a small bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.
